SWIP Circular BK/12

April 04, 2017

My dear Confreres,

Fraternal greetings from Fr. Benny. As we are approaching the Holy Week and the glorious celebration of Easter I wish each of you the experience and blessings of the Risen Lord. May the Passion of Jesus and its merits lead each one of us to a new perspective of the reality of Resurrection.

HOLY WEEK: BENCHMARK FOR A CULTURE OF LIFE

My dear Confreres, 'the week' before the Easter is aptly named by the Church as the Holy Week. It is holy because it is the week wherein all the constituents of our Christian existence are meaningfully celebrated. Through the Maundy Thursday Jesus gives us the meaning of existence beyond the mere corporeal existence; through the Good Friday the Lord gives us the meaning of Suffering and death and through His Resurrection He gives us the purpose of our human existence.

Sacramental Theology teaches us that our life here on earth is merely a passing by. It teaches us that we have an existence from (Anamnesis); we have an existence here and now (Dasein); and we have an existence towards (Prolepsis). Unfortunately, in the course of our meagre 70-80 years of human existence we forget about our existence towards and get so caught up with the peripheral, immediate existence as though there is no more future. This is reflected in our behaviour, character and lifestyle.

The German Language uses two words to express the concept 'Body'. It uses the word koerper in order to refer to our fleshy, physical existence. At the same time, when the Holy Communion is distributed, where we receive the true body of Jesus, the word used for body is Leib. It refers to the existence in one's essence and substance, which is beyond space, time and extension. The existence that Jesus brings to us through his passion, death and resurrection is such an existence, which has no end. Catholic Theology teaches us that the more perfect a being is, the less the occupation of space.

St. Paul, in the 2nd Letter to the Corinthians, mentions about the kind of existence that we would have after our physical, human death. He says: This body, in which we live, is merely a tent; God is preparing a House for us in heaven. A tent gets torn away at the wake of a heavy storm or breeze; but a house is built with strong foundation. It cannot be destroyed. The welcome message is that we should not be stuck by immediate satisfactions of the body; instead we should focus our attention on the eternal.

My dear Confreres, the tendencies of the modern world to get away from God and Faith and to be stuck merely by the prowess of intellect and feeling are causing catastrophic impact not only in the society at large, but in religious life in particular. Some of the tendencies among religious and priests to live in tune with the standards of the world consequently show off in anomalies regarding money, positions and relationships. There is an alarming ratio of misappropriations of various levels referred against the consecrated people too. The tendency to be stuck in the 'here and now' existence is extinguishing the sacredness of our consecration.

I pray and wish that we avail for ourselves a little bit of time during this Holy Week to examine our consciences and to define the meaning of our existence. Let us encounter Jesus in the sacrament of reconciliation; let us encounter Him on His way to Calvary; let us encounter Him in His resurrection – the new life, beyond death and decay. YES, EASTER IS A LIFE THAT IS WON THROUGH DEATH. LET US WELCOME THE CULTURE OF LIFE.

Meeting of the Convenors and Secretaries of Apostolic Communities

March 30, 2017 was set apart for the orientation of all the convenors and secretaries of the Apostolic Communities. The meeting was animated by Rev. Fr. Benny Koottanal, Provincial, which began at 09:00 am by invoking the blessings of the Lord. In the context of decadence in the spirit and life of religious Fr. Provincial emphasized the thrust and purpose of Apostolic Community Meetings (ACM) and its relevance. As a constitutionally erected body its animators as a constitutional entity should promote religious witness in all spheres of life. Quoting the MSFS constitutions, General Directory and the Statutes Fr. Benny Koottanal, the Provincial, expressed some of the expectations and the need for a specific programme for the ACM. Time was set apart for the attendants to share and clarify matters concerning the ACM.

Discernments and Decisions in the Meeting

1. Apostolic Community meetings have to be convoked four times in a year (Once in three months).
2. At the request of the Superior General or the Provincial, special Apostolic Community Meetings may have to be convoked
3. Participation of all the members in the meeting is mandatory.
4. As mentioned in the Directory and the Statutes of our Province, the Secretary shall intimate the members about the date and venue of the meeting.
5. Every Apostolic Community Meeting should have the following components:
 - a) Minutes of the Previous meeting
 - b) Study of a specific topic (Such as Encyclicals of the Popes, Documents of the Church, Study materials proposed by the General or Provincial Administrations. One of the members could make a study of the material and present it to the community, about which a discussion or sharing could follow.
 - c) Sharing of the happenings in the communities or any important matter to be shared in the common gathering
 - d) One hour of Adoration of the Blessed Sacrament, wherein the possibility of confession can be offered to the members
 - e) Common Meal.

My dear Confreres, I have convoked this meeting, knowing very well that the Apostolic Communities are the forum wherein we can share our religious life in the most effective way. In the wake of the modern, destructive tendencies, our communities and especially Apostolic Communities must become forums that give us focus and orientation for our religious life. I request all of you to collaborate with the Conveners and Secretaries and to follow the suggestions and orientations for vibrant Apostolic Communities.

Bon Voyage

Fr. Dijo Koikkara will be leaving to the diocese of Harrisburg, USA for pastoral services on April 27, 2017. I wish Fr. Dijo, God's abundant blessings in the pastoral ministries. God bless you, Dear Fr. Dijo.

Transfers and Appointments

My dear Confreres, after having consulted with each one of you and having obtained your consent I am publishing the transfer list. I sincerely thank each one of you for your availability and cordiality in discussing and discerning the places of your appointments and consequent ministries. All of you showed great sense of good will and obedience and accepted the transfers confidently. Through your collaboration and good will I wish that our province grows into greater heights of religious commitment and maturity.
